Hyderabad Quits Fight, U.N. Still Planning Inquiry

PARIS (AP)—The cease-fire order in Hyderabad will have no immediate effect on the Security Council's interest in the Indian invasion of Hyderabad, an authoritative United Nations source said today.

The development, however, may lead to a postponement of the council's next scheduled meeting on Hyderabad Monday, this source said.

FOUR-DAY WAR

NEW DELHI (CP)—The Nizam of Hyderabad has surrendered to India, it was reported today.

The Nizam ordered a cease-fire today, little more than four days after Indian troops had crossed the borders of his princely state.

Indian troops invaded Hyderabad at 4 a.m. Monday with the avowed aim of restoring order. The cease-fire was effective at 5 p.m., Indian time (4:30 a.m., P.D.T.), the announcement said.

The Nizam, Gen. Sir Mir Osman Ali Khan, is the Moslem ruler of the predominantly-Hindu state of 16,000,000, which had refused to accede to Hindu India. (Informed sources in Karachi, Pakistan, said Indian troops today reached the outskirts of Secunderabad, military cantonment six miles from Hyderabad city, the capital.)

RAPID ADVANCE

The troops were closing in on the heart of Hyderabad, which is surrounded by Indian territory, when the report of the end came.

Dominion troops early today were near Bidar, stronghold of the Razakars, general headquarters announced.

Earlier today Lt. Gen. Rajendrasinhji, commanding the Indian forces fighting in Hyderabad, had called on the Hyderabad state forces to lay down their arms as "further resistance could only result in heavy and unnecessary loss of life."

India undertook the invasion after the Nizam refused to join his state to the dominion.

City Gets Break From U.S. Street Rail Removal Firm

The California firm of Fancher and Fancher which is ridding city streets of streetcar tracks is "the white-haired boy" around City Hall these days.

The company has informed Aid. J. D. Hunter, public works committee chairman, it has been able to complete part of its contract at less cost than originally estimated, which means the city is going to get more miles of rails removed or covered than the contract called for.

"They did not have to tell us. It is encouraging to see a big company make this gesture," commented Aid. Hunter.

Dr. Martin D. Kamen, right, of Washington University, St. Louis, a scientist dismissed from the Manhattan Atomic Energy Project for "indiscretion," is shown talking to newsmen shortly before he testified at a closed session of a U.S. Un-American Activities subcommittee. He denied he had ever revealed any secret atomic energy information to Russians.

Fate Of Queuille Cabinet Rests On Taxation Vote

PARIS (AP)—The fate of Premier Henri Queuille's new cabinet rested today with the 42 members of the National Assembly's finance committee.

The committee, representing all French parties, was expected to start voting today on Queuille's plan for raising 90,000,000,000 francs ($260,000,000) in new revenue by additional direct and indirect taxes. An adverse committee vote likely would cause the downfall of the six-day-old coalition government.

The test comes as Communists are keeping up a steady series of sporadic strikes throughout France. Latest in the walkouts was yesterday's protest strike by several hundred thousand Paris metal workers, scheduled to end this morning.

Queuille's fiscal program is inherently unpopular. It calls for increasing prices on many things like tobacco, railroad fares, and postage stamps that would hit all pocketbooks.

Meanwhile, Gen. Charles de Gaulle, touring the provinces to urge new national elections, was booed for the first time near Grenoble yesterday. The incident was started by a group of men carrying red flags.

Shriners' Cruise Marked By Mishap

VANCOUVER (CP)—The cruise of 102 United States Shriners in British Columbia waters was interrupted today when the Union Steamship vessel Chilcotin became disabled in Georgia Straits.

The steamship is being towed to Gullies Bay, on Texada Island, 75 miles northwest of here, where the passengers will be transferred to the line's Lady Cynthia.

Company officials reported the Chilcotin, which started from Vancouver, was put out of commission by a "hot" bearing and that she was in no danger. The Lady Cynthia will bring the passengers to Vancouver as many of them have train or plane reservations out of the city for tonight.

Wage Talks With Million Railmen In U.S. Collapse

CHICAGO (AP)—Wage and hour negotiations between the railroads of the United States and 1,000,000 non-operating workers collapsed today.

Negotiations with representatives of five operating unions of 300,000 workers are continuing, a carrier spokesman said.

The non-operating workers are clerks, telegraphers, yardmen, boilermakers, machinists and others not actually employed in the operation or switching of trains.

Britain, Dominions May Follow Canada's Lead On Immigration

LONDON (CP)—The United Kingdom and other Dominions eventually may follow the lead of Canada and admit French immigrants on the same basis as British subjects, but informed sources here said today they could not predict when this would be.

With the development of the Western Union and the accompanying close collaboration of Britain with France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg, a United Kingdom source said there is a possibility of something like a common citizenship in the future.

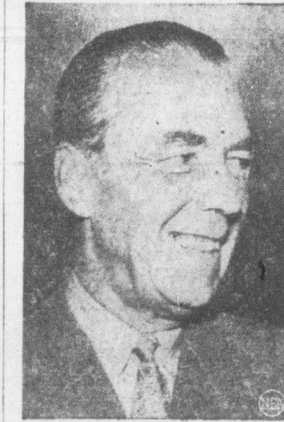

But progress towards it must be slow. Already Great Britain and France have abolished visas to facilitate visits between their peoples. The Western Union, launched early this year, anticipated dovetailed policies on defence, customs and economic questions.

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—Damage was estimated today at $400,000 in fire that destroyed the Sealed Air Corporation of Canada plant Thursday night.

JERUSALEM (CP)—Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator in Palestine, was assassinated in Jerusalem today by men in uniform.

Reuter's News Agency quoted from Paris a report that his life had been threatened recently by the Stern Gang of Jewish extremists.

The U.S. consul at Jerusalem reported to Washington the 54-year-old Count was ambushed, presumably by the Stern Gang.

Count Bernadotte, nephew of King Gustav of Sweden, was shot as he was crossing into a Jewish area of Jerusalem.

With the United Nations mediator at the time was a French officer identified as a Colonel Serot of the United Nations staff. (Serot also was killed, the U.S. consul at Jerusalem reported.)

Count Bernadotte arrived at Jerusalem at noon today after visiting Ramallah, 10 miles north of Jerusalem, where he had conferred for an hour with an Arab Legion commander. About two miles north of Jerusalem his car was fired on from the direction of Haddassah Hospital on Mount Scopus. The bullets hit the running board, penetrating one side without injuring anybody. Count Bernadotte had come to the Holy City for a last look around before going to Paris for the United Nations' General Assembly meeting.

A sniper's bullet found its mark on the left rear wheel of his automobile.

'I Don't Want To Be Shot At'

The count's party was accompanied by high-ranking Arab Legion officers in jeeps. After reaching Jerusalem, the count alighted to inspect the bullet hole.

He seemed upset and said, "I don't want to be shot at either by regulars or irregulars."

An armored car was bringing up the rear of the convoy in which the count had traveled. Asked if he had anything to disclose about the object of

Shoot Without Knowing Targets

Count Bernadotte had visited Damascus, capital of Syria, Thursday.

While in that city he told newspapermen that both Arabs and Jews in Jerusalem were "trigger happy."

He explained that frequent shooting broke out in the city without either side knowing what it was shooting at.

"It's like this," he said. "They shoot into the dark at night. They snipe by daylight. Excuse me, but it is a most idiotic thing."

Bernadotte was appointed United Nations mediator in the Holy Land May 20 last.

Count Bernadotte twice succeeded in bringing a truce in the war for Palestine between the Jews and Arabs. The truces have been brief, punctuated by shelling and fighting.

Both sides appeared to expect the current truce, now two months old, to run out at almost any moment.

Woman Remanded In Abduction Charge In Brandon Court

BRANDON, Man. (CP)—Mrs. Jack Struth, 21, of Killarney, Man., was remanded without plea until Sept. 23 when she appeared here today charged with abducting five-week-old Penelope Susan Palidwar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Palidwar of Brandon.

Mrs. Struth, a dark-haired young woman, made no comment when the charge was read to her, and was remanded in custody.

The "blue baby" was discovered in Killarney, 55 miles southeast of here, after disappearing Thursday from her carriage in front of a grocery store.

Threat Recently Against Life Of Count Bernadotte

PARIS (Reuter)—A threat against the life of Count Bernadotte, United Nations mediator killed in Jerusalem today, was made by the Stern Gang recently and was reported to United Nations officials here by a United States military observer who had just returned from Palestine. It was learned here. The observer was understood to have reported to a high United Nations official that members of the Stern Gang warned the Count a few days ago that if he set foot again in Jerusalem he would be killed.

Goering's Own Story

"War is unavoidable if the western powers try to unite their three zones of Germany into a buffer state against the Soviet. Then they will need a strong enough personality to provide a rallying point for the Germans. They will think at once of me. Unfortunately I shall be dead."

So said Reich Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering discussing Europe's future as he lay in Nuremberg Prison before his trial as No. 1 war criminal.

This is one excerpt from the inner story of the last days of the man who styled himself "Most Faithful Paladin of the Fuehrer," as told by Werner Bross, the German lawyer who defended Goering at the Nuremberg trial, and to whom Goering dictated what was tantamount to his "Statement to Posterity."

Goering's own story is a work of historic importance. The Victoria Daily Times feels that it is doing a duty to democracy to reveal the unrepentant ideology of the No. 2 Nazi thug.

Woman Speaker Tells Presbytery Of Church Activities For Girls

Miss Gertrude Patmore of the Christian Education Council of Vancouver addressed the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church in session in Metropolitan United Church, giving facts and figures and dramatic details of the work carried on by the girls' work board in summer camps and daily vacation Bible schools during the summer.

Fifteen hundred girls of various ages were given the opportunity for camp life and helpful instruction in Christian life and leadership in this manner during the summer.

Rev. Bob Morris of the boys' work board also spoke, feelingly of the importance of camp life, and work with 'teen-age' boys. His budget for the year was presented and though larger than formerly, due to necessary increases of salary to staff and office workers, it was accepted enthusiastically by the Presbytery.

DEEPER FELLOWSHIP

Dr. Hugh Dobson of Vancouver spoke on the need for a more gripping interpretation of the Christian gospel. Said Dr. Dobson, "We are moving through a remarkable stage of human history which in many ways is similar to the first years of the Christian religion." He went on to state his conviction that the gold-medallist type of knowledge of the scriptures is not sufficient for these stirring, critical days, but a vital awareness of the power of the Holy Spirit is needed. He urged a deeper fellowship in the church, and a personal type of visitation evangelism by laymen which would knit the church into one great vital body, fit and prepared to face life as it is in these days of crisis.

The Presbytery laid plans for the opening of church work in Chemainus, which is to be associated with the Duncan United Church. Laymen will be given the opportunity of carrying a large measure of the responsibility in connection with this work.

In view of the pending retirement of Rev. C. McDiarmid from work in the Cedar district, arrangements are under way for linking up Cedar with Ladysmith Church as a temporary measure.

Rev. J. H. Wright of Nanaimo, about to retire at the age of 80 years, is to be replaced by Joseph Hiltchin on the Gabriola mission field.

Rev. W. R. Asford of Centennial United Church reported that more than $1,200 had been received from the churches of the island in excess of the amount contributed up to the same date last year.

TO ADDRESS ROTARIANS:

Next Thursday the Rotary Club of Victoria will hear E. L. Warner, Governor of District 101, Rotary International. Jury Finds Dog Shot Master Accidentally

JOHANNESBURG (Reuter)—A verdict of accidental death was recorded at an inquest here Thursday on Cornelius Vanderbank, 44, who was shot by his dog.

Mrs. Vanderbank told the coroner her husband trained his two dogs to take firearms from persons who might break into their house. She declared how, while he was playing with the dogs in his bedroom, she heard a shot and entering the room, found her husband seated, with blood running down his face.

Later she found one of the dogs in the yard with a revolver in its mouth.

Granted Fare Boost

NEW YORK (AP)—Private bus companies in New York city have been allowed an interim fare increase of 1 cent. It raises fares to 6 cents.

The Public Service Commission Thursday permitted the raise to go into effect until Dec. 31 pending determination of a permanent fare.

Twelve bus companies had petitioned the commission for a 7-cent interim fare. The Fifth Avenue Coach Company, which sought a 12-cent fare, was granted 11 cents.

Crown Requested To Pay For Cost Of Transcription

The Attorney-General's Department will be requested to pay for the transcription of evidence taken at the trial of Lloyd Francis Pressley, Vancouver, convicted on a charge of breaking and entering.

The Appeal Court Thursday recommended to the Attorney-General payment for the cost of transcription of evidence after it had heard Joseph McKenna plead that the accused was too poor to pay for the work.

Mr. McKenna said the case involved important points of law about which the trial magistrate had expressed doubts.

W. H. M. Haldane, counsel for the Crown, said he felt that the transcription of evidence was not necessary. He pointed out the accused was a second offender.

"I don't think it fair to bring in a person's record in this case," replied Mr. McKenna. "Every person is entitled to complete justice."

It is usual for the Attorney-General to pay for the cost of transcription only in important cases.

Britain's Economy Plan, Export Drive, Cut Down Trade Deficit

LONDON (AP)—Britain's economy program and export drive has slashed her trade deficit in the first half of this year to less than one-fourth of the 1947 total, the government announced Thursday.

A White Paper said revised estimates of the balance of payments for the first half of 1948 showed a provisional deficit of £140,000,000 ($360,000,000), as compared with a deficit of £630,000,000 ($2,520,000,000) for the whole of 1947.

Britain's balance of trade deficit in 1946 was £370,000,000

($1,480,000,000) and in 1938—the year usually used by the government as a target—was £70,000,000 ($280,000,000).

Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, read the figures in the House of Commons in answer to Conservative criticism of the government's fiscal policies.

He called the news heartening, but warned that optimism "must be tempered by qualifications," including the proviso that "there is no exceptional element that intervenes, either in the political or economic sphere, to upset our achievements."

Association Would Make Museums Educational, Cultural Centres

OTTAWA (CP)—There's a move on foot to blow the dust off Canada's museums and lift them into the realm of public attractions.

"Most people think of a museum as a collection of curiosities, whereas it really is a living thing, and an invaluable channel for modern education," H. O. McCurry, director of the National Art Gallery, said today in announcing plans for the initial annual meeting next month of the Canadian Museums Association.

Mr. McCurry is president of the association, which was organized in Quebec City last year. Other members of the association include: Secretary-treasurer, F. J. Alcock of the National Museum of Canada, Ottawa; first vice-president, Paul Rainville, Musée de la Province de Québec, Québec City; second vice-president, Dr. Clifford Carl, Provincial Museum of Natural History and Anthropology, Victoria.

It is expected curators from the larger museums across Canada will attend the two-day session, which will be given over largely to discussing means of implementing the objectives of the new association.

One of the organization's first aims is to promote museums as educational, science and cultural centres.

In addition it hopes to aid in the establishment of a museum school or schools for the training of art gallery and museum personnel.

It also is anxious to promote the exchange of exhibition material and the arrangement of exhibitions in Canada and abroad. Principal speaker at the association's meeting will be Sir Eric MacLagan, past president of the British Museums Association and for many years director of the famous Victoria and Albert Museum, London.

Waste Heat Disposal Problem On Ship Rocketing Into Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atomic energy has the power to send a space ship rocketing off the earth into the interplanetary void, but the problem remains of disposing of waste heat that would "surely vaporize the body of the ship."

This was related to the American Association for the Advancement of Science Thursday by Dr. Eugene P. Wigner of Princeton University.

He said that to escape the gravitational pull of the earth, about 15,000,000 calories of energy per 1,000 grams of escaping material is needed.

"Since the energy content of a fissionable material is more than 1,000,000 times greater than this," he declared, "the energy requirement is not in itself prohibitive."

However to attain a given efficiency of operation, there must necessarily be the generation of waste heat.

Even for a relatively low efficiency, Wigner said, the waste heat would be such that "unless one can dispose of this, it will surely vaporize the body of the ship."

Sandhogs Meet In New York Harbor

NEW YORK (AP)—A 30-pound dynamite blast 115 feet below the surface of New York Harbor late Thursday linked two ends of the Brooklyn Battery Vehicular Tunnel.

The explosion blew a four-foot hole through the remaining five feet of rock, ending a burrowing job begun in 1940 and suspended three years during the war.

Sandhogs greeted each other with cheers to end what an official called the hardest part of a $77,000,000 problem with many headaches.

Transportation Inquiry Arranged; Scope To Be Set

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government is setting up a royal commission on "national transportation," but the scope of its inquiry has not yet been made public.

A brief announcement by the government Thursday night said a commission with somewhat limited terms of reference would be created, and later information indicated:

1. It would touch to some extent on the freight rate problem, but would not have power to go into it fully.

2. It would not conflict with a current inquiry by the Board of Transport Commissioners into Canada's basic freight rate structure.

3. It probably would not deal heavily with highway transport such as bus and truck operation, which are under provincial jurisdiction.

A concurrent announcement by Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent said Sept. 27 and 28 had been set as the date for hearing by cabinet of the appeal of seven provinces from the transport commissioners' award last March of a 21 per cent freight rate increase to the railways.

A high government source said the commission will be able to touch on certain aspects of the freight rate problem which are not within the exclusive competence of the board.

New Reports Spur Search For Plane Missing In Manitoba

THE PAS, Man. (CP)—A blanket air search today concentrated on a heavily-wooded lake studded area in the middle of Manitoba, hunting for a missing United States navy plane which disappeared Sunday with five persons aboard.

The search directed its chief attention to the Wabowden district, 120 miles northeast of The Pas, following new reports of persons who said they heard the plane in distress Sunday over that area.

The latest report came from a man, not yet identified, who said he heard a plane engine cutting out while flying in a south-westerly direction during heavy rainfall.

On receipt of the report Thursday night three planes—two from The Pas and one from the Hudson Bay port of Churchill some 600 miles northeast—were dispatched to the district.

The missing aircraft, a twin-engine Beaufort, was en route to Ottawa, flying from Churchill to The Pas, when it disappeared Sunday.

Among those aboard were Capt. Sir Robert W. Stirling-Hamilton, naval attaché at the British high commissioner's office in Ottawa, and Capt. B. S. Custer, naval adviser at the U.S. Embassy in Ottawa.

One of the planes conducting the night search from The Pas covered the direct route to Churchill. The other flew over the Wabowden region. The Churchill plane was scheduled to cover the route direct to The Pas.

Aboard the Dakota covering the Wabowden area, was F.O. T. M. Anderson of Victoria, radio operator.

Hundreds Of Japs Lose Lives When City Flooded

TOKYO (AP)—Between 800 and 2,000 Japanese have been killed, injured or are missing in flooded Ichinoeski City, 50 miles north of Sendai, Japanese and United States authorities said today.

A Kyodo news agency report from a technician to his prefectural office at Morioka in Iwate prefecture placed the number of dead at 2,000.

Allied headquarters, however, said reports from army units at Sendai listed 800 dead or missing. Kyodo said two feet of rain deluged the city in a typhoon Thursday night. Some 500 homes in Ichinoeski were washed away and 1,600 were flooded, the news agency reported.

The swollen Iwai River burst through its dikes near Ichinoeski and poured through the city of 35,000 population.

First practise of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra will be held in the School of Theatrical Arts Building, 1318 Broad Street, next Tuesday evening at 7:45. All members are asked to be present.

Bernadotte Worked Hard For Peace In Palestine

By NORMAN ALSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Slight, 54-year-old Count Folke Bernadotte, slain today in Jerusalem in the line of a mediator's duty, was a nobleman of patience.

He worked at making peace as hard as other men worked at making war.

Since his appointment last May as United Nations mediator in the Palestine war between the Arabs and Jews, the nephew of Sweden's King Gustaf came under unremitting verbal attack from both sides.

Throughout, the blue-eyed, grey-haired diplomat of the old school continued to speak of eventual peace in the Holy Land.

Tolerant but resolute, Bernadotte regarded the changes of success in Palestine as one-in-100 when he took the job. He revealed his creed, in part, in an interview during the summer:

Bears Roam On Outskirts Of Mesachie, Boy Gets 400-Pounder

MESACHIE LAKE — Henry Monti, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Monti of Mesachie village, on a hunting trip with his parents, brought down a large bear a few miles from the village here. Others in the hunting party were: Mr. Carlos Waldie, Mr. Lorne Schott, Donald Grant and Andy Clemons.

It took the six hunters over half an hour to drag the huge animal, estimated at over 400

French Officer Wounded When Bernadotte Slain

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. consul at Jerusalem reported today that Count Folke Bernadotte was ambushed and shot to death by four men, "presumably by Stern Gang." The so-called Stern Gang is a Jewish extremist group.

The consul, John Joseph Macdonald, also reported that a Colonel Serot, French officer and senior United Nations observer in Jerusalem, was killed at the same time.

Macdonald's report to the State Department on the slaying of Bernadotte, United Nations mediator in the Palestine dispute between Jews and Arabs, follows: "Regret to report Count Bernadotte and Colonel Serot, French officer and senior United Nations observer in Jerusalem, killed this afternoon about 1700 hours (5 p.m., Jerusalem time), presumably by Stern Gang. Convoys in which they were riding was returning from Government House. As they passed through Katamon, a Jewish-held area, jeep suddenly appeared, blocking route, containing four men, two of which proceeded to count's car.

"Colonel Frank Begley, U.N. security officer, grappled with one and was slightly wounded in face. Second reached to count's car and assassinated the two men at point blank-range with Sten gun. Jeep succeeded in escaping."

Statement Reds To Fight For Russia Stirs Aussies

SYDNEY (CP)—The Australian people's attitude toward the Communist Party is getting tougher as the party comes more and more into the open with acts and speeches in defiance of democracy.

A statement by G. Burns, a member of the Queensland state executive of the Communist Party, that the Communists would fight on the side of Russia if Australia should become involved in a war between the western powers and Russia, has jolted the public and politicians alike.

Opposition members of the Queensland parliament are demanding immediate criminal action against Burns for sedition. In Canberra, Prime Minister Chifley has promised he will ask the acting Attorney-General to inquire into the statement.

Veterans' associations have expressed their anger at Burns' statement and have voiced repeated condemnations of Chifley's contention that the Communist Party is a political philosophy and should be treated as such.

R. D. Huish, Queensland president of the Returned Soldiers' League, said Thursday night in a statement that this proved beyond a doubt that Australia has a well-organized fifth column which is a menace to the country's security.

R. Dixon, president of the Communist Party, denied the views expressed by Burns were those of the party's central executive.

Baby In Buggy Killed By Animal

GRAND'MERE, Que. (CP)

—An unknown animal killed a five-month-old baby as she lay in her carriage on the veranda of her home here Thursday. The body of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Pierre Neault was found with her face partially eaten away. The carriage was covered with blood.

Swimming Cougar Shot On Bentick

Swimming cougars are getting all too common for the liking of Bentick Island residents. This week, the little island had its second big cat swim to it in slightly more than a year.

The cougar, like its predecessor, apparently smelt the goats on the island across from Rocky Point and allowed his hunger to overcome his fear of the 150 feet of low tide water separating him and the goats.

The cougar was discovered by Garney Schofield, a member of the quarantine station staff on Bentick Island, who rowed across to Rocky Point to get Donny Parker and his hunting dogs.

Back at the island the cougar was given short shrift. Mr. Parker and his dogs killed the cougar at the end of only half an hour's hunt. The animal measured six feet from nose to tail tip.

Mr. Parker was the hunter who shot a cougar which swam across to Bentick last year and killed nearly half a dozen goats.

MARTYR OF PEACE

REGARDLESS OF WHETHER THE assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte in the Jewish part of Jerusalem today was the result of maniacal madness or part of a diabolical plot to hinder the return of peace in the Holy Land, this horrible incident is another impressive argument in favor of the immediate establishment of an international police force under the aegis of the United Nations.

This distinguished son of Sweden had devoted himself and his talents to virtually superhuman efforts to bring Jews and Arabs to a recognition of their mutual interdependence. He had spared neither his intellect, his profound knowledge of international relationships, nor his personal comfort in the mission to which he had permitted himself to be assigned. And there were times in recent days when he had every right to believe that he had achieved a measure of success for which the world as a whole could be profoundly grateful.

To try to place the responsibility for the deed which obviously will have shocked millions would be foolish at this writing. But responsible peace-loving citizens of every nation should recognize in this tragic incident the fact that the assassin's bullet has the power to ignite the fuse which results in an explosion engulfing everybody.

ACCLAMATION DESIRABLE

CANADIANS IN THE MAIN WILL applaud the decision of the Progressive Conservative Association in East Algonia not to contest the by-election in that important riding when Hon. L. B. Pearson, newly-appointed Secretary of State for External Affairs in the King administration, seeks the seat in the by-election scheduled for Oct. 25. It will be recalled that Mr. Thomas Farquhar, who had represented the constituency in the House of Commons since 1935, was elevated to the Senate to enable the new cabinet member to bid for an electoral endorsement.

It is not yet clear whether the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation or the Social Credit Party will challenge Mr. Pearson's appeal for a seat in Parliament. Both are reported to have decided against an acclamation for the distinguished and able Canadian who has carved an enviable niche for himself in the realm of international affairs. The average citizen, of course, will not take kindly to the idea that the new Secretary of State for External Affairs—especially at this crucial juncture in world relationships—must leave his desk in Ottawa to explain to all and sundry that his service to his country has been practically 100 per cent as a government official under both Liberal and Conservative administrations.

None will seriously challenge the right and privilege of C.C.F. and S.C. parties to campaign against Mr. Pearson and incur the expense of an expression of the popular will in this particular instance. Nor is it likely that the minister would have much difficulty in winning the seat. But national C.C.F. leader Coldwell and national S.C. leader Low—to whom the Secretary of State for External Affairs is well and favorably known—may look askance at any decision of the local branches of their respective parties in East Algonia if they force a contest.

WELCOMING COMMITTEES

THERE WILL BE LITTLE SURPRISE occasioned by the disclosure that although Communists are meeting trainloads of Displaced Persons arriving to take up work at various points in Canada the propagandists are achieving no success. A Labor Department official estimates that "99.99 per cent of the new arrivals are resisting the efforts of Communists." The reason may be found in the fact that many of the D.P.'s have made their way to this country only after repulsing attempts to make them return to their former homes to live under Communist domination. Poles, Lithuanians, Latvians and others whose lands have been taken into the Marxist system, and who have made themselves voluntary exiles because of this, will provide poor soil for Communist seeds in this country. Many of them have already felt the heavy hand of a totalitarian regime; they have come to the Dominion to escape it.

At the same time, it must cause some astonishment among them to find that one of the first things with which they come in contact in their new home is the Communist propaganda machine. For the past few years most of them have been living under unusual conditions in D.P. camps where every influence to which they have been subjected has had the brand of "officialdom." Now, strangers arriving in a strange land, some of them might carry for a time the impression that this eager Moscow missionary work at the railway station enjoys the blessing of the governmental agencies that brought them here. They will readily understand that our national adherence to the principle of free speech leaves the Communists full opportunity to address the new arrivals. But it is to be hoped that the department under whose auspices these immigrants are traveling will explain the full situation to them so that they may view the barrage of propaganda in its proper perspective. It is important that these new Canadians should not enter upon their new life with any false impressions about their future home.

AT THE BORDER

IN THE CURRENT UNITED STATES campaign to purge labor of Communist domination or influence, it is not unnatural that immigration authorities should refuse entry into the neighboring country of those union figures either authentically stamped as Moscow stooges or suspected of being fellow-travelers. What is less easily understood is the report that several anti-Communist labor leaders also have been barred. It must be understood, of course, that each case should be determined on its own merits. On the other hand, however, the action will unquestionably stir resentment in several unions and provide grounds for acridulous criticism of our neighbor's attitude toward labor. That is one of the misfortunes of a campaign which some consider verging on the hysterical, and one which might have been kept within more sober bounds had 1948 not been an election year.

FULL HOUSE?

FEARS HAVE BEEN EXPRESSED BY Dr. G. Brock Chisholm, head of the United Nations world health organization and Canada's former Deputy Minister of Health, that the resources of the globe will soon be exploited to a point where they will not be able to sustain a larger population. Dr. Chisholm has achieved publicity on several occasions for rather spectacular statements and no doubt his present observation will raise a considerable controversy. For the U.N. official sees limitation of families as one of the chief ways in which the problem may be met—a proposition that carries with it many religious and sociological aspects of a difficult nature. The tradition of the "large family" has been one which, although not always observed by its admirers in a practical manner, has consistently attracted support and commendation from the public at large, and, indeed, has received government encouragement to the extent of monthly subsidy payments. European nations in these postwar days have "viewed with alarm" their population figures, and sought to increase the birth-rate as a measure of national security.

To reverse this trend would necessitate a complete revolution in public thinking. And to put such a limitation into practical effect would require a measure of individual and international agreement and co-operation that is still far from evident in other fields. The most common attitude no doubt would be: if the earth is overcrowded then population must be limited—but let some other family, some other nation, do it.

POOR ARGUMENT

THE FIRST TACTIC OF THE Communists when they do not get their own way is to disparage the integrity of those who opposed them. This apparently disposes of the argument at hand and releases the Kremlin's spokesmen from any further necessity of co-operating. An example of such a mode of conduct is seen in the current charges by Pravda that Trygve Lie, the Secretary-General of the United Nations, is the obedient tool of Britain and the United States. The universal acclaim which Mr. Lie has won in his difficult post as the first officer of the world organization, of course, provides all the denial that need be offered in regard to the Soviet accusation. Those who published this charge must know, from their own knowledge of global affairs, that it is malicious and baseless. To voice it is to harm the international body on which are based our hopes of world peace. But apparently such a consideration carries little weight with the Marxist apologists, so long as their own case is thereby protected.

INSURANCE SALES SOARING

DESPITE SEVERAL MINUTE WARS which are disturbing the peace of mind of millions of people the world over, and regardless of the trend of events which sometimes seems to presage another major conflict, Canadians in the mass seem to be doing very well indeed. We draw this conclusion because recent figures disclosing the amount of life insurance being sold in the Dominion these days has reached the imposing total of more than $100,000,000 a month, or better than $1,250,000,000 a year. Furthermore, latest statistics reveal that our people are protected by well over $10,000,000,000 worth of policies—or practically double the amount in force just before the outbreak of the Second World War.

These financial facts are eloquent of that measure of thrift demonstrated by Canadians who have evidently made up their minds that the most satisfactory form of social security is that represented by the proceeds of their own initiative and their own labor. Under our free enterprise system, of course, they are at liberty to put their dollars to work as a means of earning that competence to which every free-born Canadian looks forward as he or she contemplates the evening of life.

For the benefit of the gentleman who told the Legislative Press Gallery the other day that he intended to launch a new Canadian Party, to be known as the Canadian People's Capitalistic League, and who says people have not enough money to buy insurance at this stage, we commend the foregoing. As an insurance agent himself, incidentally, he ought to know that, since 1945, one company has practically doubled its sale of policies in this province—an increase in business no doubt experienced by all the other national companies.

Edinburgh Festival

By EDWARD HODGKIN

THIS LETTER FROM BRITAIN is written from Edinburgh, which has for long been known as the Athens of the North, as much for its appearance (with its great castle-crowned rock in the centre of the town and the surrounding hills and sea) as for its vigorous intellectual life. For the past two years this old phrase has been given a new significance by the Festival of the Arts which the city has organized, and which has proved a triumphant success, attracting over 100,000 visitors from every part of the globe. Primarily the festival is a musical one, with six first-class orchestras in attendance (including the famous Amsterdam Concertgebouw), but it has plenty of other attractions which more than occupy the three festival weeks. There has been excellent drama, including Euripides' "Medea" with a Scottish actress, Eileen Herlie, who has been acclaimed a new star in the grand tradition of drama. The Glyndebourne Opera, that magnificent example in prewar Britain of private patronage, was there, too, with Mozart's "Don Giovanni" and "Così Fan Tutti."

BUT FOR MANY PEOPLE who journeyed for the first time across the Tweed this year the sights and sounds which will remain longest in the memory were those which were peculiar to Scotland; the kilned dancers performing their elaborate reels in the Gardens of Princes Street, the Highland troops marching and counter-marching to the strain of the bagpipes in the courtyard of the Castle, and the Castle itself, beautifully floodlit, rising out of the night like the snow-capped summit of an Alp. What a splendid city Edinburgh is, and what a hospitable race her citizens are! There could surely be no better setting for a festival, and those who remember her of old will be glad to hear that you can still get haggis, and black-puddings, and oatcakes and Edinburgh Rock of the same quality as before, even if you have to search a good deal before you can track down a nip of the true Glenlivet.

THE RAILWAY JOURNEY from King's Cross Station in London to Waverley Station in Edinburgh was taking an hour longer than it should during most of the festival period. This was owing to the disastrous floods which suddenly swept away many of the bridges in the Border area, leaving the rail tracks dangling helplessly in the air. We are fortunate in that even our heaviest rains seldom bring disaster in their wake, and the rivers most liable to flood—such as the Thames and those of East Anglia—are carefully controlled by a well-developed system of locks and catchments. But this year the turbulent streams which drain the Cheviot hills on the borders of England and Scotland—the Tweed, the Blackadder and the Whiteadder—suddenly became roaring torrents, overflowing their stony banks and carrying before them great quantities of cattle as well as grain which had just been cut or which was ripe for harvesting.

THIS PART OF THE WORLD is a great centre for small yeoman farmers, many of whom saw the hard work of a lifetime washed away overnight. A relief fund has been opened to provide them with some compensation for their losses, but it says a good deal for the character of the farmers there that one of the difficulties which relief workers have found is the reserve and independence of the small farmers, who take bad fortune with stoical self-reliance on their own shoulders. The railways and roads are more easily repaired. There is a new way of relief ready to hand in the shape of the Bailey bridges, which the campaigns in Europe made so familiar. Army sappers have been putting this wartime invention to good peacetime use on the Border.

THE SUDDEN HEAVY RAINS, unexpected in mid-August, which caused havoc in this particular area, did a good deal of harm to the harvest throughout the country. Not that the harm should be exaggerated; there was enough sun and dry wind towards the end of the month to save the bulk of the grain, and on most English farms wheat and other cereals only represent about 5 to 10 per cent of the sales. Far more important to our farmers, from the cash point of view, are livestock, fruit and vegetables, and the late rains have been responsible for a magnificent supply of grass for summer and winter cattle feeding, as well as guaranteeing bumper crops of potatoes, sugar-beet and vegetables.

BUT THIS YEAR, and for the next few years at least, the farmers are being called on for an extra effort to produce more food of all sorts—more bread as well as more meat and milk, and they have responded to this appeal by bringing a quarter of a million more acres under tillage than a year ago. This means that, even allowing for the bad weather just before the harvest, we ought to have a yield for 1948 well above the average, even if it falls short of being the record-breaking year it promised to be a couple of months ago. At all events the farmers are well set on the road to realizing the 20 per cent increase in production by 1951-2 which the Minister of Agriculture asked from them a year ago. It is no mean achievement to put on this spurt at the end of a war, during which so much was demanded of the farmers, and at a time when shortages of labor and equipment, here as in every other country, inevitably make their work harder. But hard work and the surmounting of difficulties are second-nature to farmers.

'Who, Him? He's No Friend Of Mine!'

The United States And Shaw

By JAMES THRASHER from New York

THE LONG and generally pleasant relationship between George Bernard Shaw and some of his American admirers is in danger. For the distinguished Irish playwright has come out in favor of liver injections, Henry A. Wallace and five o'clock shadow.

THREE PROBLEMS

The first of these has got him in Dutch with the Vegetarian Party, just when it's trying to get its first presidential candidate into the White House. The second has irked the Democratic and Republican Parties, who also have candidates in the field. And the third has not endeared him to the razor people who sent the bearded Celt a sample of their product and received, with his refusal, some explicit comments on the utter senselessness of shaving.

We should hate to see anything drastic happen. Thousands of Americans have enjoyed Mr. Shaw's books. Hundreds of thousands have enjoyed his plays. And surely millions have been delighted by the movies made from them. The pleasure was mutual, since all this brought the author a lot of American dollars. And few men of his artistic distinction have ever owned up to a more unabashed fondness for folding money.

His three new endorsements are further examples of Mr. Shaw's famous nonconformity and perverseness. Those qualities even show up in his brief encounter with the liver injections. He wrote the Vegetarians' candidate for vice-president that he tried some injections 10 years ago to cure an attack of pernicious anemia. "Result—I dropped apparently dead twice," he reports, "and have not since had any injections."

MELLOWING A LITTLE.

Yet Mr. Shaw hedges enough in this vegetarian message to suggest that, at 92, he is beginning to mellow a little and admit that there can be other ways of thinking and doing besides his own. He confesses that he is still a practicing vegetarian. But he doesn't claim exceptionally good health, nor credit: his long life to his diet. His forebears were meat eaters, he says, and they lived a long time, too.

As a practicing socialist, perhaps Mr. Shaw could be as reasonable about Mr. Wallace as about vegetarianism and admit, after some reflection, that there is another side to the matter.

Global Survey

Associated Press News Analyst
IT WAS a queer twist of fate which kept dictator Hitler from making war on Czechoslovakia in the autumn of '38 and at the same time provided him with the ammunition to launch a world war a few months later.

Again I am indebted to Dr. Erich Kordt, who then was chief of the German Foreign Office secretariat, for the astonishing background of that crisis. It was only recently that he filled me in the details.

Hitler had been greatly encouraged by his success at the Godesberg conference in bulldozing Prime Minister Chamberlain into agreeing to demands for the Reich's annexation of Czechoslovakia's German inhabited Sudetenland. The Fuehrer became still more desirous for a "little war" with his small neighbor to enhance his prestige.

WARNED OF BLUFF

At this critical moment Dr. Kordt and many others, including high German army officers, were aiming at the overthrow of the Nazi regime. They knew Germany wasn't ready for major war and felt sure Hitler would back down if Britain and France chucked appeasement out the window. Kordt so advised British officials and begged for firmness.

On Sept. 26 Britain, France and Russia did throw their weight between Hitler and Czechoslovakia to the extent of announcing that if Germany attacked the republic they would stand by it. Meantime the Fuehrer was screaming that his demands must be met by Oct. 1. That same night of Sept. 26 he made his historic Sports Palace speech before an audience of 12,000 in Berlin, declaring in effect:

"If Czechoslovakia doesn't give me what I want, I shall go and take it."

The next day he decided it would be smart to march a large body of troops through the streets to the chancellery where every evening the crowds collected to cheer him. This time, however, the Fuehrer got a shock.

NO 'HELLS'

There were no "HELLS," Dr. Kordt told me. There were no cheers. The people stood in sullen and shocked silence as they gazed at the soldiers in realization that they might be an omen of war. The populace didn't want war. Hitler watched this for a few moments and then retired, remarking to followers:

"The people are not yet with me in this project."

That was where fate temporarily threw the switch against Hitler. The next morning he suddenly wiggled the Allies for a conference at Munich. The Germans who were planning revolt had set that very day for a rising, but the dictator's "conciliatory" move spiked their guns. They had to postpone their project.

Well, Munich is history which needs little repeating here. The Fuehrer got the Sudetenland for delivery on the date demanded—Oct. 1.

JUST WHERE?

Toronto Saturday Night
The best brains amongst the European refugees, we are told, are going to Britain. The best in Britain are going to Canada, Australia and other Dominions. And finally, the best of the Dominions are going to the United States.

Yet the United States does not seem to be managing its affairs that much better than the rest of us. Where do all these brains, that are supposed to be moving about so much, really end up?

ROOT OF DEMOCRACY

London (Ont.) Free Press
Mayor H. E. McCallum of Toronto puts his finger on the spot when he declares that the fighting ground of democracy is municipal government. To the Sons of England Benefit Society, meeting in Toronto, his worship warned that lack of interest in municipal government was "allowing those who would tear down our democratic system to get a foothold in public life." Municipal government has ever been the foundation of democracy and liberty. It is the keynote of freedom.

BEAUTIFUL BUT DUMB

Ottawa Journal
A healthy well-formed body, developed by exercise and sports is an asset of the greatest value in all walks of life. Well-formed limbs and torso, however, could be put to much better use than for display like animals at a fat stock show. It was Euripides, it we remember rightly, who said that of all the pests which plagued Greece in his day, athletes were the worst. The remark would apply with equal force today to the beautiful young men in the Montreal body contests. The man who enters such a competition is surely writing himself down as empty in the head.

Facing Facts In Britain

From The Daily Mirror, London

THE TRADES UNION Congress at Margate was asked to discuss a lot of "demands." They came from individual trade unions who want more money to be dishied out in one way or another, as if the golden age could be brought about by turning a handle.

For two years the T.U.C. leaders have been trying to hammer home the reality. This is that Britain faces not a higher living standard but a lower one unless production is increased.

They don't say anything about increasing production to pay for it. They don't say anything about ending their restrictive practices. Nobody mentions the interests of Britain.

The "Daily Mirror" and all responsible people want the workers to have a fair share of everything, but it must be related to the country's plight. Some of these "demands" are up in the sky.

Quiet But Impressive

Hans Gruber, new director of Victoria Symphony, discusses conducting.

By AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON
"Conducting is easy to fake, but at the same time one of the most difficult arts known to man."

Hans Gruber was answering a question I had put during the first of what I hope will be many inspiring and illuminative conversations with the new director of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra. He had just arrived from Toronto, but in spite of weariness he was happy to talk—not of himself, but of the music that is his life, and of his work here to which he is looking forward so keenly.

We were discussing conducting without score. The conductor must know every detail of his score intimately if he is to conduct from memory. Mr. Gruber told me. Conducting without the book, on a less profound basis of knowledge is bound to be, to a certain extent, fake. For this reason, he explained with the characteristic earnest sincerity that is so attractive, he himself will conduct sometimes with score, frequently without.

When I asked him about the private study he had had with Pierre Monteux this summer, he was enthusiastic.

"What a wonderful experience," he said. "There are only three or four truly great conductors and Monteux is one of them!"

His eyes glowed as he spoke of Monteux's summer home in Maine where 10 or 11 carefully selected young professional conductors receive an intensive master course. Orchestral players from all parts of the United States go there to work on repertoire, so presenting the young conductors with their experimental orchestra.

"THEIR EGO DEFLATED"

"Everyone has their ego deflated," Mr. Gruber said, "but then you go there for criticism, not compliments."

The slim, dark young man is impressive in his quiet authority and simplicity of manner. He declares his deepest affection is for the classics, though he finds certain contemporary music vital and interesting. In this connection he mentioned especially,

Aaron Copland, the American composer and spoke with admiration of George Gershwin, whose original use of indigenous material was "so fine and who 'brought jazz out of the kitchen.' Jazz, said Mr. Gruber, must not be considered below or above classical music. There is no basis for comparison; it holds its own place and serves its own special purpose.

Mr. Gruber is eager to get started on his work with the Victoria Symphony, but he was emphatic upon one point in the discussion. Loyalty, he feels, should not be centered in an individual or an organization, but should have for its object symphonic music. Society, instrumentalists and conductor should have one aim for which they are prepared to make all sacrifices and compromise—serving the cause of symphonic music and seeing that it flourishes in their community. Audiences too! Their loyalty must be of a similar kind.

"It must be completely discouraging to work with an orchestra where the spirit is poor," I said.

"It is!" Mr. Gruber agreed promptly. "Because if the spirit is poor, the conductor must feel that he has failed at his job. He, and he alone, can get enthusiasm from his players."

I did not ask the obvious and usual question at this interview. But I got an answer just the same. Yes, Mr. Gruber fell in love with Victoria at first sight, during a flying visit in July, and is very happy to take up life among her friendly citizens!

College Students Ready For Start Of Lectures Monday

Prof. Robert T. D. Wallace of the Dept. of Mathematics addresses students in the new theatre-style chemistry demonstration room of the college. Seats in the room are tiered giving all students clear view of demonstration desk and lecturer.

Victoria College students crowd the bulletin board on the opening day of the school Thursday to check their courses with posted lists. Lectures start Monday. Meanwhile further enrollments to 379 already received are expected. So far there are 274 first-year registrations and 105 second-year. The total is about 80 less than last year when many veterans registered.

Lillian Bailey, left, and Joan Clements, both of Victoria, compare timetables for the first-year courses in which they are enrolled.

CURVED GLASS PLAYS TRICKS ON THE EYES

Little tests of some interest can be carried out at home with water glasses, goldfish bowls and so on.

Water glasses, or tumblers, are made in many shapes and sizes, you may find out for yourself what those in your home will do for you. If a glass has one kind of bottom, it will make an object seem larger when you look through it from above, but another kind of bottom will make the same object seem smaller. Now then you may find a glass with a bottom so thin and flat that an object seems just the right size when you look through it.

In your tests you might place half a dollar on the floor and hold an empty glass two or three feet above it. Then put water in the glass, making it half full, and see what happens to the size of the half dollar. When I tried that with a glass which had a rounded bottom, the half dollar seemed to shrink to about the size of a dime.

You might look at your feet instead of at a half dollar and see what happens. In some cases you may discover that your feet look too large, in other cases too small. It will depend on how the bottom of the glass is shaped and whether you have water in it.

Curved glass will bend light rays, and will seem to change the size of an object. Water also bends light rays when we look at an object from a slant, or when the object is in a curved container.

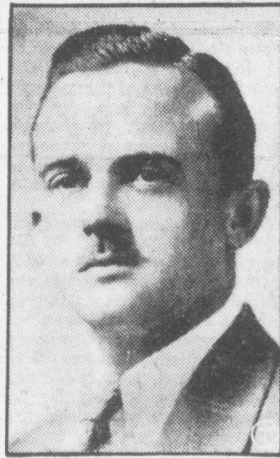

If we are in a boat, a fish straight down below the surface will be seen just where it is. If, on the other hand, the fish is three or four feet from the boat and is seen "on a slant," it will be in a different place than it seems to be. Men who have speared fish, or tried to spear them, have learned that they must aim at a different place than the fish seems to be, if they want to strike it. This is due to the bending of light rays.

One day I looked at some goldfish in a bowl and said to myself, "What large fish these are!" Then I remembered the tricks a bowl of water can play and looked at the fish from above, seeing them in their true size.

Former Victorian Recounts Growth Of Ocean Air Service

MAURICE MCGREGOR

Growth of Trans-Canada Air Lines trans-Atlantic service over the past two years is related in Victoria by Maurice McGregor, T.C.A. operations manager, Atlantic and outer bases, who is now visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. McGregor, 1456 Beach Drive.

Mr. McGregor reported heavy travel during this summer, and compared today's service of almost three flights daily, provided by 40-passenger North Stars, with the three flights a week in 10-passenger Lancasters offered two years ago.

The larger proportion of the summer travel has been west-bound, Mr. McGregor reported, although the eastbound travel to the United Kingdom has also increased over the previous year. Mr. McGregor noted a steady increase in the number of business men using airplanes rather than the slower ships.

Although not offering a regular service to the European continent, T.C.A. has flown a number of charter flights to Frankfurt and Geneva. The company has also flown a number of D.P.'s from Europe to Canada to take up employment here.

Mr. McGregor also reported a successful beginning by the company this year of a Montreal-Bermuda service. One of the advantages he pointed out, was the amount of money Canadians are allowed to take... $500 cash and $400 a month.

The DOCTOR Says:

DIPHTHERIA STILL A DANGEROUS DISEASE
By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Fifty years ago, diphtheria was a disease which killed off many promising and attractive youngsters, and sometimes their elders as well. Almost anyone over 50 can recall losing some valued relative or friend to this dread disease.

Diphtheria, while not yet extinct, is far less frequent and, if caught early, is much less dangerous. The conquest of diphtheria is a result of the discovery of its cause, which is a germ, as well as the development of an antitoxin, which counteracts the poison produced by the growth of the germ in the body, and the perfection of a means of vaccination or inoculation, which increases resistance to the disease.

Diphtheria germs usually grow in the throat, where they produce a grayish membrane from which the toxin, or poison, is poured into the blood. This poison causes fever and seriously affects the heart, nerves, lungs and kidneys.

The germ-containing membrane often grows down toward the voice box and lungs, narrowing the passage for air and sometimes shutting it off completely. Today, however, if the diagnosis is made in the first two days or so, injections of antitoxin can be given which will cause the symptom to subside rapidly.

TOXOID EFFECTIVE

We also now have a substance called toxoid, which should be given to children. This toxoid stimulates the body to produce its own antitoxin against diphtheria. Thus, if the germs gain entrance later, they find good resistance present and are not likely to be able to take hold.

The means to combat diphtheria are now known. By using them, and not relaxing our efforts, we should be able to wipe out this disease completely. Certainly, we have already gone a long way in this direction.

QUESTION: What is a good remedy for seasickness on rough water?

ANSWER: Many drugs and treatments have been tried, especially during the war. Some drugs may be helpful, but there is still no one cure or prevention.

500 Ears Of Corn At Cedar Hill Feast

Five hundred ears of corn, baked beans and gallons of coffee were served at a gathering of 150 residents of the Cedar Hill district at a wind-up meeting of the Cedar Hill Community Association Playgroup.

Although the association will only be a year old at the end of this month, plans for future development are already under way.

A committee is working on a plan to buy land on which a clubhouse and tennis courts could be built. A report on this matter is expected to be made at the annual meeting in October.

Present facilities of the playgroup include swings, teeter-totters, slide, broad jump, volleyball court and sand boxes. All have been used extensively by the children of the community during the summer, it was reported.

At the gathering the softball team was presented with the cup for the juvenile boys' Sanich playgroup championship by A. Duckworth. The team also received crests from the manager, G. Hickey.

Repeat Rites After Elopement

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Socialite Francis Hitchcock and his blonde bride from the Pennsylvania coalfields were rewed today at her wish with the solemn rites of the Greek Orthodox Church.

The ultra-exclusive Kentucky-Florida club a few miles from Deland was the scene of the ceremony, in sharp contrast to last night's simple nuptials in the tiny town of Folkston—the "Gretna Green" of Georgia.

Tall Stephanie Saja, 23, wore a white lace gown fitted with an off-shoulder Bertha collar, a finger-tip length tulle veil, and a tiara of mother of pearl orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white tube roses and an orchid.

For the ceremony last night which climaxed a surprise elopement, she was clad in slacks and a print blouse.

The couple plan a honeymoon trip to Rio De Janeiro.

Members were told that an appeal was being made for the rummage sale to be held by the auxiliary to the Veterans' Hospital Sept. 29, and Mrs. Conway Pelly, 909 Esquimalt Road, is in charge of arrangements.

Nominations were taken, and will be announced later by the nominating committee, headed by Mrs. C. M. Wagget.

It was announced that the annual meeting would be held Oct. 14, in the Y.W.C.A. rooms.

Wedding Cake Cut With Souvenir Sword

A German sword, brought back by the groom as a souvenir of his two years as an R.C.A.F. prisoner of war, was used by newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Frederick Dawkins, to cut their three-tier wedding cake, at a reception at St. Luke's Church parish hall.

The bride, the former Elizabeth Mary "Betty," youngest daughter of Arthur E. Lemon, Duncan, and the late Mrs. Lemon, and groom, elder son of Mrs. Elizabeth J. A. Dawkins, 1544 Richmond Road, exchanged vows Sept. 6, at 4 p.m. before Rev. Frederick Pike, at St. Luke's Church.

Blush velvet created the wedding gown styled with insets of lace in the full skirt, low neckline enriched with a fold of velvet and long-sleeved jacket. The bride's shoulder-length veil was crowned with a velvet coronet, and she wore as her only jewelry, a gold watch, gift of her groom, and a pearl necklace. She carried a crescent bouquet of creamy roses and pale pink heather. Mr. Lemon gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Helen Lemon, her sister's sole attendant, was gowned in golden moire taffeta. She wore a green-feathered calot and carried a bouquet of mauve chrysanthemums to complete her ensemble.

Leslie Dawkins acted as best man for his brother. Ushers were Dick Batey and David Lytle.

Mrs. Dawkins and Mrs. Dick Batey, sister of the bride, received guests with the newlyweds at the reception. Mr. Batey gave the toast to the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemon, who will make their home in Vancouver, are spending their honeymoon at Olympic Hot Springs, Wash. The bride changed to a gabardine suit in cobblesone grey with small Cossack hat of Kelly green suede, matching handbag and corsage bouquet of yellow rosebuds.

Layette Shower—Plans for the annual layette shower in early November were made at a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to St. George's Church, held in the parish room, Ganges Harbor, Salt Spring Island. Mrs. W. Norton reported on dorcas work and it was decided to hold the annual harvest supper on Oct. 13 in Mahon Hall. Mrs. F. Sharpe was named convener. A new member, Mrs. J. Fenwick, was welcomed. Tea hostesses were Mrs. G. H. Holmes and Mrs. F. Sharpe.

Warn Hunters On Shooting Insulators

Serious results which may come from the carelessness or wanton destruction caused by hunters shooting electric power line insulators was emphasized today by B.C. Electric officials in a caution to hunters of the southern end of Vancouver Island.

G. F. Green, superintendent of the light and power department, reported that one of the main transmission lines from Jordan River in the Otter Point area was out of service Wednesday for 11 hours, due to hunters shooting at the insulators on one of the poles.

$1,000 Bail Set For American In Court

Magistrate H. C. Hall fixed bail at $1,000 Thursday for Herbert Allen, United States citizen, who has been charged with cashing a forged cheque for $10. Allen was remanded to Sept. 21 after a preliminary trial. No plea was entered. George F. Gregory is appearing for accused.

Hillside To Have Quonset Theatre

Large quonset-type building being erected on Quadra Street just south of Hillside Avenue will be independent neighborhood theatre. Opening is set for the middle of November.

Victoria is getting a new moving picture house which is unique in construction.

C. W. Walkey and B. A. Nixon are erecting a $25,000 quonset hut type theatre at 2657 Quadra Street, which is one the east side of the street just south of Hillside Avenue.

Arched steel girders have been erected and galvanized sheeting now is being fitted over the oval. But when the theatre is completed, its odd structure will not be seen. The building will have a modernistic, squared front, stucco-finished, with a small store at one side.

The builders expect the theatre to be completed by the middle of November. It will have new seats and up-to-date projection and sound equipment.

SEAT 450

The theatre will seat 450 and will be operated independently of any moving picture chain.

Mr. Nixon, a former Calgary man with 20 years in the theatre business, will manage the new house. He recently joined Mr. Walkey in the venture.

Mr. Walkey owns a block of stores adjacent to the theatre and operates a pharmaceutical dispensary in one of them.

PLAN CURLING RINK

He got the idea of erecting a quonset type theatre from magazine advertisements of Great Lakes Steel Corporation, and he says that if the building is a success, he hopes to erect a multiple quonset unit at another location, as a curling rink.

The theatre covers an area 100 by 40 feet. Contractors are Philbrook and Butler and architects, Birley, Wade and Stockdill.

Travel Aids National Unity Says Head Of Travel Bureau

The tourist industry of Canada will be a potent instrument in the development of national unity, D. Leo Dolan, head of the Dominion Tourist Bureau at Ottawa, told members of the Rotary Club at the Empress Hotel Thursday.

"Things learned from books don't stay with us, but we retain what we learn by experience," said the speaker.

"I have learned to know Canada and its people through traveling across the Dominion, and I think every Canadian should try and do the same. It's a wonderful feeling to know your fellow countrymen in other provinces," Mr. Dolan said.

Mr. Dolan said he felt quite at home on the Pacific Coast as the complaints against freight rates and taxes were familiar to him, a native of New Brunswick.

TOO MUCH PROPAGANDA

The need for American dollars is played up too much in our propaganda, in the opinion of the former newspaperman. Americans come to Canada, he said, because they like a real Canadian vacation, not to help us get more dollars out of the good of their hearts.

However, when they are in the country, they automatically help us, Mr. Dolan continued. He reported that in 1947 $234,000,000 was spent by U.S. tourists and this year the total is expected to reach $250,000,000.

Two things needed urgently to aid the nation's tourist business, concluded the speaker, are improved highways and improved accommodation.

Mr. Dolan lauded the work being done locally by George I. Warren, Victoria and Island Publicity Commissioner, and said he considered him one of the leading men in the field in the Dominion today.

Monthly meeting of the China Inland Mission Prayer Fellowship will be held Monday at 7.45 in the Y.W.C.A. Wesley Milne, Miss Betty Laing and Miss Barbara Phillips, who have recently been accepted by the mission and will sail for China this fall, will address the meeting.

DIAL 900ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE*BANKER BOASTS OF QUIET DAYS

Usually a banker is a pretty conservative man. That's why John-Manville was so pleased to get this letter from a bank vice-president. He writes: "We've had 30 days' experience with the Fibretone acoustical ceiling which John-Manville installed and can report that it does more to correct our noise problem than you claimed. Our bank is quiet due to John-Manville Fibretone—even when it's crowded."

Fibretone is but one of the many acoustical materials John-Manville manufactures to quiet noise in busy offices, factories, stores, restaurants, schools and hospitals.

If you have a noise problem, John-Manville can help you solve it. Their knowledge is based on more than 35 years' acoustical experience. For free J-M Sound Control booklet, write, John-Manville, 1206, Homer St., Vancouver. Asbestos Building Materials Ltd., 707 Johnson St. G 7314.

Prices Commission Hears Shirt Prices To Rise By Year End

OTTAWA (CP)—The Prices Commission was warned Thursday both that shirt prices are going up again and that British textile costs are putting Canadian shirt manufacturers in a "precarious position."

The three-person body concluded its study of shirt costs and adjourned until Sept. 28, when it will tackle costs in working clothes.

H. H. Warren of Montreal, secretary-treasurer of the Warrendale Shirt Company Ltd., predicted "all shirt prices are going to be advanced before the end of the year." Increased labor and other costs were the cause.

The fears about British prices were expressed by N. S. McGregor of Hamilton, Ont., general manager of the McGregor Shirt Co. Ltd., at a significant time—just before the arrival of Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and British trade officials who are expected to be asked about costs and about Britain's failure to live up to her textile quotas.

Rotarians Send Ties To Britain

Four hundred "ties of friendship" are en route to England. A few months ago members of the Rotary Club here heard that men in England had to give up clothing coupons to buy a necktie. The local clubmen collected all the ties they could and have sent them to fellow-Rotarians in seven English clubs.

The ties have been addressed to clubs at Coudens, Croydon, Richmond, all in Surrey, King's Lynn, Norfolk, Taunton, Somerset, Hull, Yorkshire, and St. Helens, Lancashire.

However, it may be a case of too many ties now—the coupon requirement was lifted a month or two ago, evidently unknown to the Rotarians. But the gesture will likely be none the less appreciated by the British members.

Sketches Interest Art Enthusiasts

An interesting sketch entitled "Souping the Soup" is currently drawing comment at the display of caricatures and sketches by Harry Mist, Victoria-born artist, now on display at the Art Gallery and Studio, Douglas Street.

The sketch portrays conditions in an internment camp at Ruhleben, Germany, where Mr. Mist was confined during the First World War. It is the lone remaining drawing of a number done in the camp, the others having been burnt in a fire.

Several humorous sketches are attracting attention, including one called "Design for a Totem Pole."

The display will continue until next Wednesday.

Labor Council Here Elects G. P. Taggart

G. P. Taggart has been elected president of the Victoria Labor Council (C.C.L.) to succeed T. A. Mitchell, it was announced today following a meeting of the council Wednesday night.

J. M. Wainscott was elected secretary-treasurer.

Both are delegates from the International Woodworkers of America, Local 1-118.

Replacing T. Panthorpe as delegate to the B.C. Federation of Labor is Mr. Taggart.

The council passed a motion requesting the Canadian Congress of Labor to reinstate the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

George Home, newly-elected secretary of the B.C. Federation of Labor, and Percy Lawson, representative of the Canadian Congress of Labor, addressed the meeting.

Montreal Alouettes Turn Back Ottawa Riders

Montreal Alouettes uncorked a surprise in eastern Canada football by turning back Ottawa Rough Riders 11 to 8 at the Dominion capital. One of the few chances Ottawa fans had to cheer was when Tony Golab crashed through for 17 yards. Montreal's Herb Trawayk is seen bringing down Golab on the 30-yard line.

Avelino Gomez Has Good Day At Willows

Little Avelino Gomez was the central figure in the racing picture at the Willows track Thursday. The Mexican hardboot rode two winners, one second and one third, and provided the crowd with some measure of excitement in the sixth event when his mount, And So On, stumbled entering the back stretch throwing Gomez to the ground.

But the hard-riding Gomez was uninjured and came back to ride in the final event of the day. For his day's work Gomez moved to within two points of Ted Johnson for leading jockey honors.

The spill occurred with And So On leading the field in the Willows Handicap for two-year-olds with Administrator second, just as the horses were coming out of the turn.

Administrator then took the lead with Markendell, Family Shares and Sugar closely bunched. In the stretch drive Sugar came on with a rush to win by two lengths but was disqualified and placed fourth for drifting in and interfering with other horses. Administrator was declared winner returning the longest price of the day, $12.90, $5.05 and $3.00.

Remainder of the card saw public choices or near favorites get down in front.

SMALLEST DOUBLE

Smallest double of the meet was seen yesterday when Dry Feet in the first and Villierstown in the second combined for a $10.30 price. Gomez was up on Dry Feet and was second to Villierstown on High Brow in the second.

In the third event, also over six furlongs, Northfield with Gomez up made it a wire-to-wire performance. Cherokee Boy with apprentice Marvin Moncrief in the saddle held off a strong stretch run by Jenny's Lass to take the fourth event in the time of 1:18.5, fair time for the condition of the track.

Pardo with Sidney Martin getting his first winner captured the fifth with Beach Drive moving up for second money and Scotch Lad again closing strong for third place.

Johnny Hruschak got his first winner of the meeting in the seventh aboard Gold Bay after being unseated at the starting gate. Sir Gallator took a nose decision from the favorite Celtic Flash for the runner-up position. The quinnella, Gold Bay to Sir Gallator was worth $23.80.

TIMES HANDICAP

Topping Saturday's card will be the Times Handicap at one mile and a sixteenth for a purse of $1,000 added. His Brother, last year's winner, will probably rule as first choice but with Pea Soup, Count Galbreath, Gallamar and others in the field some good racing is forecast.

Jackie Turner Drops Decision To Mike Bernal

VANCOUVER (CP) — Jackie Turner of Vancouver, Canadian flyweight champ, Thursday night dropped a hard-fought eight-round decision to Mike Bernal of Oakland in the main event of a professional boxing card here.

Turner, who recently lost a 10-round decision to Hawaii's Dado Marino, fought gamely but could not keep away from Bernal's punishing right-hand.

Turner weighed 117 pounds and Bernal, 120.

The card's real action was supplied in the heavy wind-up when Roy Wouters, 158, Montreal, added another win to his already

Youthful Flam Proves Tennis Giant-Killer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Herbie Flam, 19-year-old collegian from Beverly Hills, Calif., has established himself as the giant-killer of the United States national tennis championships.

Ranked no better than 20th, the former junior champion was firmly entrenched in the semifinals today with only three other Americans still in the running for the men's singles title.

Flam's victims included such campaigners as Harry Likas, national intercollegiate champion from San Francisco and Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., co-holder of the United States doubles title.

Latest to feel the effects of Flam's steady attack was Likas, who succumbed yesterday in an amazing turnaround after he had beaten Flam in nine of the first 11 games.

Flam won 18 of the last 20 games and broke through Likas'

Haas Fashions Brilliant 65 For Tacoma Golf Lead

TACOMA—Firing a six under par 65, Freddie Haas of New Orleans paced the smart field at the end of the first round Thursday in the $12,500 Tacoma Open golf tournament. Breathing down Haas' neck was Tacoma's Chuck Congdon with a 66. Another stroke back was Vic Ghezzi of Englewood, N.J.

Haas nicked four blows off par on the outgoing nine with a 31, and his card showed five straight birdies over the toughest holes on the course, eight through the 12th. Only twice did he drop a stroke to par, taking fives on the fifth and 18th holes.

His 65 tied the course competitive record set by Harold McSpaden in 1945. With the day warm and the breeze light he 6,460-yard Fircrest course played fairly easy for the touring professionals, 16 coming home in sub-par figures. Nine more were even with par at 71.

Congdon slipped only once taking a bogey five on the fifth. He had six birdies. Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., marked up a sparkling 32 on the out nine but skidded to a 38 on the return half. Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., did the same. Bracketed at 68 were the veteran Ky Laffoon of St. Andrews, Ill., and Young Al Smith of Winston-Salem, N.C.

Stan Leonard, Vancouver pro, carded a 36-38-74, while Ernie Tate, also of Vancouver, was one stroke behind with a 35-40-75. Fred Clunk, Victoria, had an 81.

BASEBALL MEETING

Regular monthly meeting of the Victoria Baseball Association will be held at the Eagles Hall tonight at 7:30. Meeting will wind up the current season, and each team is asked to have representatives present.

Impressive string by knocking out Frankie Gimble, 162, Spokane, in the sixth and final round.

It was an even battle until the sixth, when Wouters cut loose with a flurry of left and right hooks. He nailed Gimble with a chopping right and followed through with a left to take the bout.

Yankees Move Within Game Of Boston Sox

Those poor little St. Louis Browns who sold their stars to Boston for some $375,000 are biting the hand that fed them.

Last night's nibble, a 3 to 1 Red Sox loss, reduced Boston's American League lead to one game over New York.

A lean willow gent by the name of Cliff Fannin did the most damage.

Boston went into the game, knowing that the runner-up New York Yankees had divided an afternoon doubleheader at Detroit. If they won they would pick up a half-game. Instead they were victimized by Fannin's magic and again have that nervous feeling that somebody is shoving from behind.

Fannin shut out the Red Sox until the ninth when he ran into trouble. Then an old Bostonian, Eddie Pellagrini, whom Joe Vanin had "tossed in" when he bought Kramer and Stephens, saved him with a leaping stab of a line drive.

Cleveland took advantage of Boston's loss to close the gap between first and third place to 2½ games. The Tribe handed Washington its 16th straight loss, 6 to 3, on a five-run first inning that included a bases-loaded homer by Larry Doby.

The Yankees missed a chance to tie Boston for the lead by losing the first game at Detroit, 2 to 1. They salvaged the second, 8 to 4, overcoming an early Tiger lead.

HURLS FOUR-HITTER

Freddie Hutchinson outpitched Vic Raschi in the opener with a four-hitter, yielding only one run—the 300th homer of Joe DiMaggio's major league career. DiMaggio became the eighth slugger to attain such slugging fame.

The league-leading Boston Braves were idle in the National League, so the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates and third-place Brooklyn Dodgers each gained a half-game.

Pittsburgh fanned its hopes by walloping New York, 10 to 6, but they still trail the Braves by 4½ games. Bob Chesnes was in trouble in the fifth when the Giants scored five runs. He walked the bases full and gave a three-run double to Johnny Mize and a two-run homer by Willard Marshall. After that he was in charge for his 13th success.

Brooklyn slugged Cincinnati, 12 to 6, their 18th win in 22 starts against the Reds. They now trail the Braves by five games.

Hank Sauer hammered a bases-loaded homer in the first, but the Dodgers came back with three runs and continued to bang away all afternoon.

Wilson Finishes With .369 Mark

W.I.L. Batting Champ Sets Two Records; Final Averages

The Western International League baseball season for 1948 is now history and although the records compiled here are not official and league records will not be published for a few days it appears that Archie Wilson of the Athletics is the new league batting champion.

Wilson, who did not play in the club's final three games at Salem, getting a well-deserved rest, wound up the season with a batting average of .369. His nearest rival for the crown, Dick Sinovic of Salem, was batting at a .352 clip when the last league figures were published by Howe News Bureau. And it hardly seems likely that Sinovic could have picked up the necessary points in the final 10 days of the schedule.

Wilson did set a new league record for triples with 26 and new record for base hits with 244 while his total bases leadership was far from being challenged. Awaiting final averages it is also a certainty that Wilson will either finish first or second in runs scored and runs batted in. Edo Vanni will probably surpass the centre-fielder in runs scored while Bill Wilson of Wenatchee stands a chance of taking the RBI title.

Three other members of the A's finished in the 300 group. They were Babe Jensen, Jack Palmer and Vic Buccola. Jensen compiled an unofficial .326 mark while Buccola climaxed a tremendous late season drive by boosting his average to .310 from a low in the .250's.

Jensen was the only other player on the club besides Wilson to drive in more than 100 runs.

SETS TWO MARKS

One thing is certain, however, winding up with a total of 111 while Wilson batted home 131.

Palmer just did get into the 300 group with a .2996 rating. He, with Wilson, Jensen, and Balassi scored more than 100 runs. Palmer batted in 94, with Buccola next in line with 87 RBI's.

Awaiting final and complete averages from Howe News Bureau, the official league statisticians, batting averages of the regular members of the Athletics for the season follow. Complete pitching records will be released later.

Cougars Set For Grid Opener Against Stags

With all the fanfare of the occasion the Canadian football season officially gets under way tomorrow with Lou Mogul's Cougars playing the Port Angeles Stags under the lights at Athletic Park starting at 8.

Mayor Percy George will be on hand to kick off the first ball-in what Canadian football supporters hope will be a return of the game to its once proud prewar standards.

The half time and intermission ceremonies will be looked after by the appearance of bands and drill teams while the Cougars will be attired befitting the occasion in brand new red and white regalia.

Well known to local sports followers is Pop Haggerty and the colorful official will act as referee. Bob Webster will be judge of play with Harry Zaruck as head linesman and Archie McKinnon timekeeper.

SEEK REVENGE

In a previous game between the two clubs Port Angeles defeated the Cougars and the locals are out to reverse that verdict in tomorrow night's clash.

The Stags are reported to feature a wide-open game with the attack built around Robin Rossiter, 180-pound halfback. Cougars will also employ a varied attack with elusive Ray Mitchell the key man in the offense.

Cougars held a final workout last night in preparation for the game and Mogul, though non-committal on his team's chances, is quite pleased with the way the boys are shaping up.

Juvenile Soccer League To Open Season Oct. 9

At the annual meeting of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association last night closing date for league entries was set at Sept. 30 with the league to start functioning Oct. 9.

Percy Payne was re-elected president with ex-secretary Don Gray as first vice-president. Fred Jenkins was named second vice-president and J. Allan secretary replacing Ted Carey who declined renomination. Jim Lees was named registrar.

At last night's meeting entries were received from nine teams, Veterans of France, Esquimalt Athletic Association, Jubilee Pharmacy, Heaney's, Esquimalt Meat Market, Grenek's Pacific Meat, T.A.C. and Balmoral Thistles.

SOCCER MEETING

A general meeting of the Lower Island Intermediate Football Association will be held at St. Louis College tonight, starting at 8. Registrations of teams and the setting of an opening date will be included in business to be discussed.

Esquimalt first division juvenile soccer squad will hold a practice Sunday morning at Victoria West Park, starting at 10. All players are asked to turn out.

Bobby Gray Rates Strong Contender In Canadian Golf

EN ROUTE TO VANCOUVER (CP)—Big Bobby Gray, professional at Toronto Scarborough, may be just the man to turn the trick at the Canadian Open golf tournament in Vancouver next week.

Bobby is strongly backed by the eastern Canadian contingent en route to the coast on the golfers' special for the tournament opening Sept. 22. If he can win, he will be the first Canadian to finish first since 1914. Karl Ketter of Ottawa gave Canada the last championship in its own tournament back in 1914.

Listen to Gordie Brydson of Toronto Mississauga, who ranks among the best Canada has produced: "Bob has been on his game. He's a tough buy to beat. He is hitting them hard and straight. I haven't played the Shaughnessy Heights course, but from what I hear this course is to Bob's liking."

Gray finished sixth last year at his home course, eight strokes away from the record low of 268 set up by Bobby Locke of South Africa.

STAN HORN FIGURES

Gordie didn't count out Stan Horn of Montreal Islemere. The Mississauga pro thought, modestly, that Canada may win the title this year.

Brydson had the best Canadian professional score in 1942 at his Toronto Mississauga home course. He has twice been runner-up.

When the tournament shapes up for its start Wednesday, there may be a total of 150 entries, more than one-third from the United States.

The total yesterday stood at 118 and entries were still coming in. There was a chance that Lloyd Mangrum, who won the U.S. Open title two years ago, would be in.

Roger Trophy Golf At Gorge Vale Club

The two-ball foursome competition for the Roger trophy will be played at the Gorge Vale Golf Club Sunday. Post entries will be accepted at the first tee.

Draw follows:
9:00—R. Headley and K. Garland vs. G. Merriman and D. Eiford.
9:05—J. Whitmore and D. Morten vs. J. R. Clark and R. D. Law.
9:10—B. W. Bird and G. Thornbury vs. Eric Barber and R. A. McGowan.
9:15—W. Nelson and A. J. Temple vs. H. Piest and A. C. Clark.
9:20—D. Gillard and J. McEvay vs. Norm Gibson and E. Conrad.
9:25—H. Ashton and T. Valentine vs. Don Hooper and H. McDonald.
9:30—C. Boden and Bob Luxton vs. H. Atkinson and H. B. Panthorpe.
9:35—H. Harris and L. R. Jefferson vs. M. E. Woodward and J. C. Lawrence.
9:40—Ken Hinks and Pete Stieran vs. Joe Briggs and L. J. Wilson.
9:45—Bob Davidson and A. N. Osher.

Albions and Incogs will meet in a cricket match at the University School grounds tomorrow.

Albions line-up follows: G. McIlvenney, T. Oakman, J. Shanks, J. Corby, J. Davidson, D. Wagg, E. Bowkett, E. Rowe, D. Pite, J. Mason, J. Rowe and H. Parker.

Chicken Thompson In Critical Condition

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bill (Chicken) Thompson, 21-year-old Philadelphia heavyweight, was reported in serious condition today after being knocked out in a fight with Johnny Haynes of New York.

Thompson was rushed to hospital last night when he remained in a dazed condition after his knockout by Haynes, three seconds before the end of their scheduled eight-round bout.

Police were summoned to take the Philadelphia fighter to the hospital after Dr. Joseph I. Levy, Pennsylvania Athletic Commission physician, and Dr. Michael Primnana were unable to revive him.

Thompson, who weighed in at 180, took a severe beating at the hands of Haynes, 30 pounds heavier, in six of the eight rounds.

10,263 Students At Schools In Greater Victoria; 378 Increase

Greater Victoria school population has increased by 378 students to a total of 10,263, it was reported by J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, today, 10 days after the 1948-49 term opened.

There is a decrease of 13 in the total number of students enrolled at high schools—2,214 compared with 2,227 last year; there are 520 junior high school students this year compared with 509 last year, an increase of 11; the big increase is in registrations at elementary schools, 7,529 this year to 7,149 last year, or a jump of 380.

Mr. English said the addition of six classrooms to schools is proving satisfactory. Two rooms were added at Oakland School, and one each at Willows, Victoria West, Tolmie and Cedar Hill.

These rooms have taken care of approximately 225 of the extra 380 students. The remaining 155 children have been crowded into classes throughout the school system.

ATTENDANCE AREAS

Elementary school attendance areas have remained unchanged virtually in recent years, Mr. English said, but he warned that these boundaries are flexible and may be changed from year to year. Also if the boundaries are not changed, permits are given in order for pupils to be moved from one school to another to meet some special situation.

The inspector reported that work is progressing satisfactorily on the construction of the vocational-technical school at Victoria High School. Also plans and specifications for the Popaz Avenue and View Royal Schools are nearing completion.

APPOINTMENTS

New appointments to the teaching staff of the system were given by Mr. English as follows:

High school—Miss Erica M. Van Engel; elementary, Herbert J. Manson, Mrs. Bertha A. Moulson, Mrs. Nellie Faryon, Miss Phyllis M. Prouse; vocational-technical, George Reside; home economics, Mrs. Margaret C. McDonald.

Mr. English said that possibility of providing preliminary instruction in violin at Victoria High School is being investigated. At the present time there is no qualified teacher in the music department capable of doing this work. It has been suggested that a recognized private teacher be permitted to give violin instruction at a nominal fee of 50 cents a lesson payable by the parent of the student.

Expect Record In Enrollments For Night School Here

There is every indication that the 36th session Greater Victoria Night School which opens Oct. 4, will have a record enrollment. This was reported today by officials of the evening classes who stated the syllabus and time table now are available.

Night School is under the direction of the Board of School Trustees of School District No. 61 of which Austin I. Curtis is chairman.

Harvards Practice For Air Show

Three of the six Harvard fighter-trainer aircraft which will be among the galaxy of planes appearing at the Victoria Flying Club's mammoth air show at Patricia Bay Airport Saturday are shown above carrying out a practice formation flight in preparation for the event.

Following the official opening at 2 by R.C.A.F. veteran and former prisoner of war, Donald McKay of the Veterans' Hospital, the gathering, which is expected to top the 10,000 mark, will see more than 50 light planes return from a "bombling" of the city with balloons; a demonstration of flight safety in a light aircraft; a demonstration of crop-dusting, and aerobatic displays by N. W. "Swede" Ralston, American stunt pilot, and Mrs. Rolfe Barrett, Vancouver.

A jet plane will perform in a simulated fighter attack on a Lancaster bomber to give the audience an idea of the relative speeds of the planes, after which it will give a display of high-speed aerobatics.

Other attractions include a week-long expense-paid trip to Hollywood worth $500 in cash to the winner of a lucky ticket and the display of a North Star, huge four-engined aircraft now being used on Canadian airways, which will be open to the public for inspection. Anti-aircraft units of the army will display their guns.

One Way To Get Free Meals

Mike Panteluk, a man of about 50 with a sun-reddened face, polished off his 80-cent meal at a local restaurant last night and calmly informed the cashier he didn't have the money to pay for it. ... and now Mr. Panteluk has 30 days of free meals ahead of him.

Det. Sgt. Henry Jarvis and Detective John Lund attended. They queried him, found he had no work and was broke. He pleaded guilty this morning in city court before Magistrate H. C. Hall, had his record, including similar offences read against him and drew the month of free board at the government's expense.

Change Sought In Driving Charge

Evidence in the trial of Mrs. Laura Mitchell, 724 Newport Avenue, on a charge of driving while intoxicated, was presented Thursday afternoon in Saanich Police Court. Magistrate H. C. Hall adjourned the case for one week.

The charge followed an accident in which accused's Packard car was in collision with an Austin car driven by Mrs. Margaret Macintosh, Cadboro Bay Road, Sunday night, on Marine Drive, opposite the Mount Douglas ranch restaurant. Mrs. Macintosh suffered a broken knee cap and is confined to hospital.

Application was made by Carew Martin, defence counsel, to have the charge withdrawn or dismissed and reversion to the original charge his client was booked on—dangerous driving. C. L. Harrison, municipal prosecutor, opposed and Magistrate Hall refused to withdraw or discuss the charge.

Oak Bay Kiwanis Stage 'Mum Show'

The auditorium of the Oak Bay High School was a mass of blooms today as the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club's first annual chrysanthemum show got under way.

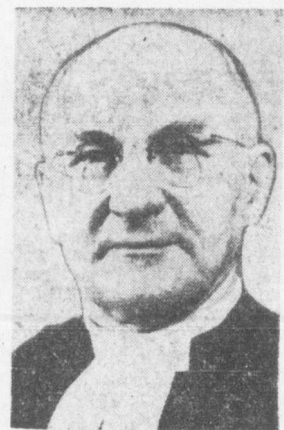

The display of an excellent variety of 'mums is said to be one of the finest ever shown here. It is being staged in conjunction with the Victoria and District Chrysanthemum Society with proceeds going toward the children's work of the Kiwanis Club.

The show is open today and Saturday from 2 in the afternoon till 10 in the evening. Each evening at 8.30 an auction of plants and flowers will be held with a free drawing for a prize plant at 9.

New Willows Alarm About False Alarm

A report from an excited Oak Bay woman, "The Willows grandstand is on fire," at 5.45 this morning turned out to be false alarm. Oak Bay Fire Department engines raced to the scene. Firemen found the night watchman burning refuse left in the wake of Thursday's racing crowd.

Fire Chief E. C. Clayards noted this was an example of the nervousness of people in that area following the recent fire which devoured the goat building. Investigators believe this fire was deliberately set.

MODERATOR HERE: Rt. Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D., moderator of the United Church of Canada, arrived in Victoria this afternoon for a brief visit before returning to Vancouver where he will preside over the bi-annual meeting of the General Council of the United Church of Canada which starts Tuesday. Dr. Jones recently returned to this country from Amsterdam, where he attended the first meeting of the World Council of Churches. He will preach at First United Church here Sunday morning and at Metropolitan United in the evening.

Tenders Called For Interior Bridges

The provincial works department today called tenders for four steel bridges on the southern Trans-Provincial Highway between Cranbrook and Creston.

The largest structure, over Moyie River at Yahk, will be 135 feet long and similar to the department's bow-string arch bridge over French Creek on the Island Highway.

A little further west another structure about 50 feet long, will be erected. It will be a steel beam span.

Still further west near Kitchener, the department is building two bridges about 35 feet long. They also will be steel beam structure.

Bids will be received up to noon, Sept. 29.

Lionel Parker, a well known soldier and sportsman, passed away at Shaughnessy Military Hospital, Vancouver. He went overseas with the 196th Battalion of the 10th Infantry Division in World War I and transferred to the 10th Battalion on receiving his commission as lieutenant. He won the Canadian championship at running broad jump in France in 1917. On returning to Canada, he played in the western Canada cricket tournament.

Reginald Clarke Named President Of League Of Roses

More than 60 former residents of Lancashire and Yorkshire met at the Y.M.C.A. Thursday night and organized a League of Roses, a club to replace the Yorkshire Society which functioned in the city over a decade ago.

Reginald Clarke was named president. It was at his suggestion and under his guidance that the group, first of its kind in Canada, was formed.

The league will be a social and service organization. A suggestion that the league aid in the fight against poliomyelitis was unanimously approved.

Members, who are descendants of the Houses of York and Lancaster which fought for the crown of England in the 15th century, stated that they hoped to see the idea taken up by former natives of the two counties now living in other parts throughout Canada.

Other officers elected included J. T. Lister, vice-president; T. H. Fletcher, secretary; A. Luke, treasurer; Arthur Hickford, chairman of membership committee; Mrs. Dorothy Hawthorne, chairman of social committee; Mrs. Eva Luke, chairman of sick committee; Mrs. Flora Patton, chairman of welcome committee.

Gladiolus Show Nets $107 For Solarium

A cheque for $107, representing proceeds of the gladiolus show which was held last month in the Crystal Garden, was turned over to the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children by the Victoria Gladiolus Society at its annual meeting Friday night.

William Taverner, society president, outlined activities carried on at the up-land hospital, and assured members they were contributing to a most deserving cause.

Walter Loney, past president of the Solarium's board of directors, accepted the society's donation, and explained something of Solarium's financial operation.

"Two months ago the Solarium was $25,000 in the red," he said. "We have since made up that deficit. But by the end of this year there may be a deficit of $50,000. Then we will have to go to the provincial government. I think they will look after us."

2 Vancouver Men In City Court

Sohan Singh, Vancouver Hindu, pleaded guilty to having an unregistered pistol, when he appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today. He was remanded to tomorrow for sentence at the request of C. L. Harrison, who said he wished to look further into the case. Lawrence Bell, also Vancouver, was charged with vagrancy, pleaded not guilty, and was remanded to tomorrow for trial.

Meat Prices Now Lower In Victoria

Retail butchers in Victoria expect meat prices to remain at their present level for at least a week. If they do change, they will decrease rather than rise, they say.

Prices have been gradually receding since they took a big jump during August after the Canadian embargo on beef to the United States was lifted.

Following removal of the export regulation, beef prices increased 15 cents a pound. They stayed up for only a short time, however, as strong buyer resistance was felt in nearly all stores.

Prices went back to their previous level and recently took another fall.

Victorians are not getting such high quality steaks and roasts as they used to get, though. Reason for this is that buyers from United States' packing-houses are buying a large percentage of Canada's top grade steers, and are shipping them into their own country.

Most beef in city butcher shops at the present time is of commercial quality.

Company, Union Asked To Nominate For Board

The Labor Relations Board has requested the Dominion Bridge Co. Ltd., Vancouver, and the United Steelworkers of America, Local No. 2655, to nominate representatives for a conciliation board to hear a dispute between the company and 15 of its employees.

Appointment of a conciliation board was recommended by J. T. Place, conciliation officer, who reported the two parties had failed to agree on wages and hours of work during negotiations.

New Nanaimo Bus Transit Fares Go Into Effect Starting Monday

The Public Utilities Commission has approved revised routes, fares and schedules of the Blue Line Transit Co. for Nanaimo city and suburban area.

The company's application, containing provision for increased fares, broader coverage of the Nanaimo area and changes in the schedules of various lines was approved in full, with the exception of proposed new routes to serve the South Wellington and Extension districts and the extension of the present Departure Bay route to the Pacific Biological Station. The changes will become effective next Monday.

The new fare structure will increase the rate from 5 cents to 6½ cents in the city limits and from 7 to 8 cents in the area outside the city covered by the South End, Townsite, Fairview and Five Acres lines. The application made provision for the enlarging of Zone One to include the whole of the territory within the city limits of Nanaimo while Zone Two takes in the balance of the districts covered by the four routes mentioned above. In Zone One the cash fare will be 7 cents with 4 tickets for 25 cents to make a basic rate of 6½ cents, while in Zone Two the new rate is 10 cents cash or five tickets for 40 cents, to make a basic rate of 8 cents. Transfer privileges will be granted in both zones.

5 TICKETS FOR 50c

On the Departure Bay, Wellington, Northfield routes the new ticket fare will be 5 for 50 cents and the cash fare 12 cents. On the Nanaimo, East Wellington route there will be a straight cash fare of 15 cents.

I. M. Sangster, Nanaimo manager of the Blue Line, announced today the company would accept tickets at present in use with the addition of 1 cent, until Sept. 26. Alternatively the company will redeem tickets at its Wallace Street office.

The new tickets will be available when the changes become effective on Monday.

Soldier's Baby Given Complete Blood Replacement

Another RH-negative baby today received a complete blood replacement at Jubilee Hospital, Donald Seymour of the Red Cross Society reported.

The baby is the three-day-old son of Staff-Sgt. Clyde McKercher, Hut 9B, Macaulay Camp, of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals (Active Army). Gerald was born on Wednesday. Mr. Seymour said the operation was performed at the Royal Jubilee Hospital by Dr. R. C. Newby. The blood was flown from Vancouver.

The baby boy is reported to be doing well following the blood replacement.

Apprehended by Constable A. Appleton, Errol Inglis, 1014 Queens Avenue, was fined a total of $20 in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to three charges. The charges were: Having no driver's license, no exhaust muffler, and failing to make a signal to warn of a change of course.

'Sainted Sisters' Showing At Atlas

William D. Russell, whose directorial effort, "Dear Ruth," was a coast-to-coast hit, and whose most recent work, Paramount's comedy success, "The 'Sainted' Sisters" is now at the Atlas Theatre, has taken to "trade-marking" his pictures.

Unlike such directors as Alfred Hitchcock and Elliott Nugent, who always appear briefly in their pictures, Russell's trademark is much less conspicuous and one that is usually feasible.

In "Dear Ruth," a fictitious name was needed for a New York square and an assistant's suggestion that it be called "Russell Square" was accepted in "The 'Sainted' Sisters," a large waterfall in the background of swimming hole scenes with Veronica Lake and Joan Caulfield was designated as "Russell Falls."

Where To Go Tonight

ATLAS—The 'Sainted Sisters' starring Veronica Lake.

CAPITOL—Red Skelton in "The Fuller Brush Man."

DOMINION—Henry Fonda in "The Fugitive."

OAK BAY—"Thunder in the Valley," starring Lon McCallister.

ODEON—Myrna Loy and Fredric March in "The Best Years of Our Lives."

PLAZA—"Robin Hood," starring Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland.

ROYAL—"A Foreign Affair," starring Jean Arthur and John Lund.

RIO—Carole Landis in "One Million B.C."

YORK INTERNATIONAL—Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald in "Welcome, Stranger."

'The Fugitive' Now At Dominion

Devotion to duty is the theme of Argosy Pictures' drama, "The Fugitive," starring Henry Fonda, Dolores del Rio and Pedro Armendariz, and now being shown at the Dominion Theatre.

One of the first pictures to be filmed in Latin-America, the story has as its hero a courageous priest. Defying a government ban against all religious activity, the Father quietly goes about his duties in the little jungle village while a squad of police seek his capture.

How a beautiful native girl helps him escape to the safety of another country, and how the call of duty brings him back again into the clutches of his enemies, forms the stirring climax.

PLAZA THEATRE

Alan Hale who plays Little John in Warner Bros.' brilliant technicolor production of "The Adventures of Robin Hood," starring Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland, and currently at the Plaza Theatre, played the same role years ago opposite Douglas Fairbanks.

Looking back, the distinguished character actor says, "Sometimes I feel there is a ghost standing next to me. How would you feel?"

ROYAL THEATRE

The laughable side of life in postwar Berlin is told in "A Foreign Affair" starring Marlene Dietrich, Jean Arthur and John Lund now showing at the Royal Theatre. Miss Arthur and sultry Miss Dietrich find themselves rivals for the affection of army officer Lund.

CAPITOL THEATRE

He's a better than average athlete, but that didn't prevent Don McGuire from being knocked out by star Janet Blair.

They were doing the climactic chase scene in Columbia's "The Fuller Brush Man," the uproarious comedy now on view at the Capitol Theatre, which co-stars Red Skelton in the title role, when Janet hit McGuire over the head with a hunk of lumber. He crumpled to the stage floor. In the scuffle with Janet, Don had lost a reinforced hat and Janet hit him before she remembered he was supposed to have protection.

However, McGuire, a true trouper, revived and carried on.

Actors Are Hams; All Part Of Their Business—Bogart

By JACK QUIGG
(For BOB THOMAS)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's fashionable in Hollywood these days to admit you're a ham, but Humphrey Bogart thinks even honesty can be carried too far.

"For my dough, false modesty is just as distasteful as pride," he observed during a reflective moment in his dressing room. "Truth is it's a type of bragging, and I'm getting sick of it."

He said nearly every actor he knows is running around confessing how theatrical he is, and added: "Sure they're hams. Why shouldn't an actor be a ham? It's part and parcel of his business. But hammiest of all is the man who admits it."

PHONE SOLUTION

A ship-to-shore phone call from the Cornet Wildes to Rita Hayworth, homeward bound on the Queen Elizabeth, solved a knotty transportation problem for the couple. With time off for a tour of Europe, they were unable to book passage. Rita obligingly persuaded the captain to give the Wildes her suite on the return voyage.

Johannesburg Meeting To Study Colonial Development Problems

By FORBES RHUDE

Canadian Press Business Editor
Among the matters which will be discussed at the Congress of the Federation of Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire in Johannesburg this month will be the economic development of Central and East Africa.

Africa sometimes has been described as the "second empire," a great new land mass coming out of a long slumber to play a part of influence.

Britain has been engaging in important developments there, including the growth of materials to make up for the world's shortage. In this the lowly peanut has achieved importance and, incidentally, supplied a market for Canadian farm machinery.

QUICK ACTION NEEDED

Sir Stafford Cripps has said that sterling-bloc countries are doomed unless there is a quick and extensive development of colonial Africa. And Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, has added that development of European overseas territories in Africa alone could, during the next few years, revolutionize the world's trading position.

So many hopes were built up that Africa might hold an important key in Britain's restoration that it came as a shock when a British all-party parliamentary investigation reported this summer it could find "no coherent strategy of economic planning" in Britain's program for developing her colonial empire.

The committee added that large portions of appropriations for colonial welfare and development have gone unspent since the war, and that in the colonies "techniques and tools are primitive, hygiene deplorable, and conditions too frequently accepted as inevitable when knowledge and right tools could improve them."

So far there has been little indication that the nations of the Commonwealth, outside of Britain, feel development in colonial areas is any affair of theirs.

The situation may be expected to get some airing at the Johannesburg meeting.

Canada has expressed no opinion, so far as is known, but it can be said that her machines are doing something to turn Africa soil into productivity and her business men at least have found markets there for products from stoves to bulldozers.

Europe Timber Lack Getting More Acute
GENEVA (Reuter) — Timber will be scarcer than ever in Europe next year, the timber committee of the economic commission for Europe said Thursday.

The 15-power committee, which has just ended a three-day session, estimated timber available for export in 1949 will hardly meet two-thirds of the demand.

This gap would be twice as large as the estimated timber deficit for 1948.

The committee reported "wide agreement" at its sessions here on a plan for western European countries to supply timber equipment and loans to timber-producing countries in eastern Europe, in return for guaranteed increases of timber exports.

Equipment-supplying countries represented at the meetings were Belgium, Denmark, France, Hungary, Italy, Holland, Sweden, Switzerland, Britain and the United States.

Equipment-buying countries represented were Austria, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Poland and Yugoslavia.

All-Girl Orchestra At Fulford Dance

A novel feature at the annual Loggers' Ball to be held at the Fulford Community Hall, Salt Spring Island tonight will be the music by the Rhythmettes, an all-girl orchestra specially brought in from Vancouver for the occasion.

Novelties and dance prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served.

Proceeds will go to Fulford children's Christmas fund. Conveners are James Grosart and Denny Singleton.

YORK THEATRE

Beautiful Joan Caulfield, who stars with Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald in Paramount's "Welcome Stranger," now at the York Theatre, has a unique clause in her contract which permits her to take six months off every year for stage appearances, if she so desires.

As yet, Miss Caulfield has not taken advantage of her contract, being quite busy and successful with her movie career. "Welcome Stranger" is her fourth starring role in as many films.

RIO THEATRE

One of director Roach's early problems during filming of "One Million B.C.," the film drama of prehistoric days now on view at the Rio Theatre, was in making the members of the cast "go prehistoric." He wanted them to forget all of their modern mannerisms, all of the little histrionic tricks they had picked up in their stage and screen work. He insisted that the girls walk pigeon-toed and avoid sitting down daintily, with legs crossed.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Peggy Ann Garner is a big girl now that she has had her first film romance, complete with kisses. Her first great screen love is Lon McCallister with whom she appears in "Thunder in the Valley," the 20th Century-Fox drama which has been photographed in color by technicolor, and is now at the Oak Bay Theatre.

Peggy Ann's initial screen kiss was a difficult one since she had to be the aggressor, throwing her arms around Lon and initiating the deal. Asked how she felt during the actual scene, Peggy Ann replied: "Well, it was just like the first time I swam without water wings. Exciting, but nice!"

Damage Slight In Haney Derailment

HANEY (CP)—A west-bound freight train Thursday night ploughed into the rear of a shunting way freight and derailed three freight cars on the C.P.R. mainline here.

Both trains were moving at the time of the impact, but the overall damage was slight, the C.P.R. reported. No one was injured.

A railway spokesman said no scheduled traffic was delayed because of the accident.

Haney is 26 miles east of Vancouver.

'WHATTA YA KNOW, JOE?'

A MAN WE KNOW, whose name is Joe, picked out a five hundred dollar horse, paid for it, ordered it delivered to his apartment where he shot it and put it in his bathtub. When we asked him why he dunnit, he sez: "My name is Joe. Every night my room-mate comes in and asks, 'Whatta ya know, Joe?' I never know a thing. But tonight I'm going to tell him about a dead horse in the bathtub!"

BABY'S CRIB... all wood, complete with a good mattress... equipped with a new type of drop side so that your baby can't possibly fall out. 2 ft. by 4 ft., in whitewood, ready for your paint job. Sample only, $27.50.

SOME EASY dough, Joe tried to find, as he looked at the "dope" with an open mind. "If THIS ONE gets away at the post, it wins more races... than do most. Or if this other, doesn't soon tire, itotta win, in the muck & the mire. Here's another... sure is hot, ought to win & pay a pot. Will close well, tho lacks early pace, might win... if given good race. Little to press, likes the slop, could easily win... this one-mile hop. Here's danger... a distance expert, but a place bet... shouldn't hurt." Joe felt the comparisons honestly stated, on past performance & WHO mamma hated. But Joe was in such a mental fog, that he just plunged into line... & BOT A HOT-DOG.

YOUTH'S BED... here's a bargain, That's For Sure. Full bed length (except 2") and 3 ft. wide, so good till a child is grown up. Complete with thick felt mattress and good springs. $34.50 new.

DID U HEAR about a fellow named "Slim" who went out to a southern track, then walked out on the track and felt the earth? It was a 5-horse race. He sifted the earth thru his hand, studied it a moment, then went and bet 500 bucks on No. 4. Then he went up & sat in the Stands, and go to heavy thinking again, so he went down and plunked another $500 on No. 4. Then he returned to the stands only to go back again, and put another $1000 smacks on the nose of this same No. 4. Joe came up to him when he got back and sed "whatta YOU like in this race?" Slim sed... "well I got 2 grand on No. 4, that's what I think." "You're crazy," sed Joe, "No. 4 CAN'T WIN, 'cause I own him. He's NOT gonna win, Slim." "That's what YOU think, Brother... I OWN THE OTHER FOUR."

WILL "COUNTING SHEEP" HELP YOU TO SLEEP?

If sleeplessness is caused by being overtired, nervous, run-down and worried — it takes more than "counting sheep" to help you sleep. Though you toss and turn, hour after hour, you can't "wish" yourself to sleep!

Many find that taking a tonic regularly is beneficial—and helps them rest more easily at night. And Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is first choice with thousands! For the Vitamin B₁, iron and other needed minerals it contains are sometimes just what your system lacks. And Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does so much to build you up — by increasing appetite and improving digestion.

So if worry, anxiety, a run-down condition or the strenuous pace of modern living is upsetting your nerves so you can't relax and rest — try taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for a while. The name "Dr. Chase" is your assurance.

Pioneer's Daughter Passes In Victoria

A link with the Hudson's Bay Company days of Western Canada was severed Thursday in the death of Mrs. Mary Collard, 75, daughter, granddaughter, and great-granddaughter of factors of the company. Mrs. Collard came here seven years ago. She spent most of her life at Portage la Prairie. Mrs. Collard was born at Fort Garry and was the last surviving of the 12 children of John Sutter. Her grandfather, Andrew Sutter, came from the Orkney Islands in 1798. Her great-grandfather was Sir Isaac Bates, an officer of the Northwest Trading Company which later was merged with the Hudson's Bay Company. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Archie M. Browne, 425 Michigan Street, and Mrs. E. McKenzie, Portage la Prairie. Burial will be Saturday afternoon.
